1783-YE AUNCIENTES-1883.

The benefit tendered by the Ladies of Honolulu to the Athletic Association came off on Tuesday evening in the Gymnasium. The place was crowded up to the limits of standing room. The proceedings opened by "Trial by Jury" Lancers played by Messrs. Berger and Yarnley on piano and violin. Then Mr. Yarnley played Ernst's Elegie as a violin solo accompanied by Mr. Berger. Miss C. Castle then played Thalberg's Home, Sweet Home, and was enthusiastically applauded. Then Mrs. E. P. Adams stepped on the rostrum and read Longfellow's Hanging of the Crane. Notwithstanding the poor acoustic properties of the building Mrs. Adams could be heard well and distinctly all over the place, excepting when thoughtless persons would walk up or down stairs to get a better view. After each section of the poem was read the curtains were drawn and a tableau vivant portraying the scene just described was seen on the improvised stage. The first scene represented the Hanging of the Crane—that is the setting up of the new married couple in their own house, all the friends and relations present and drinking happiness and long life to them. Next followed the minuet danced on the occasion. Miss J. Parke acted as accompanist and the following young ladies and gentlemen performed the figures: Miss Severance and Mr. J. Dowsett, Miss B. Parke and Mr. E. R. Adams, Miss D. Dowsett and Mr. H. Whitney, Miss Adams and Mr. O. White. After seeing the minuet danced most people agreed that as a spectacle it was beautiful still, in our energetic and rapid modern life it would never become popular. The dancing was excellent and must have taken much practice, as all were perfect in every movement and gesture. The fair instructrice must feel proud of her pupils. Then followed in rapid succession the newly bride and bridegroom alone, happy in each other, then with the first baby, "King of all he survey'd." Then the nurse carrying him to bed and then rocking him in the cradle while Miss Parke sung a lullaby. Then the gradual increase of the family and their growth into young men and women were pictured in successive tableaux. Then the couple, now grown old and their family married and away, were seen enjoying each other's society once more, and last scene of all—the Golden Wedding with all their children and grandchildren grouped around. Throughout the posturing and grouping were indicative of cultured taste and long practice, and the result must have been highly satisfactory to the projectors, the applause being frequent and sustained. The whole affair was highly pleasant.

CONCERT NOTES.

The gross receipts from the Athletic Association Benefit were over $200.—The costumes worn were much admired for their artistic fidelity to the time represented—a century ago. And not a few remarked that the present generation seemed to have in no way degenerated, for they looked as well, if not better, in those costumes, as the pictures of their ancestors showed them to have looked.—The grouping of the young children was much admired, and the charming courage of the little boy who had charge of the dog was greatly applauded.—It would be a good thing for the ladies and gentlemen who arranged the tableaux on Tuesday evening to hire the Music Hall and repeat the performance as a matinee.

After the chairs were cleared away an informal dancing-party was kept up till about 11:30. Upstairs ice cream and refreshments were sold for the benefit of the association. Altogether about 350 people were present.

LOCAL & GENERAL ITEMS.

Eighty-one German immigrants were sent to the Quarantine Station yesterday.

The concert for the benefit of the Honolulu Lahul realized $301.80 after all expenses were paid.

ONE of the novel sights of the town lately is a German policeman in uniform, who came in charge of the German immigrants.

To-day is Ascension Day and services will be held at St. Andrew's Cathedral as on Sunday's with the exception of the evening service.

Who is not going on the Tokio? That is the question now. Nearly everybody who can get away seems to be going in her.

PREVIOUS to the departure of the Likelike a hula was danced on the wharf when will this thing be either legalised or stopped?

A number of Chinese were proceeded against yesterday at the Police Court for violations of the Fire Regulations. All were remanded to the 5th inst.

The Teachers' Association meet tomorrow afternoon at Fort Street School at a quarter past two. Mr. Atkinson will give a lesson on Hawaiian Geography.

In the case of Messrs. Grieve and Atkinson yesterday at the Police Court Judge Bickerton overruled the motion to dismiss the case and committed them for trial to the Supreme Court. Notice of appeal to the Intermediary Court was given.

It appears that Post Office orders have been issued on five offices only so far. The reason is that the printer intrusted with the printing necessary could not get sufficient completed in time to supply all the offices intended to use the system. Many orders had to be refused at the Post office on Tuesday for that reason.

WHEN the Makee moved off from the wharf on Tuesday afternoon taking with her a number of German immigrants, a Hawaiian very generously threw his basket of oranges on board to them. They were eagerly and thankfully seized. A passenger noticing the generous act determined that the native should lose nothing by it, and threw him some money to pay for it.

We would ask our readers who like to see a neatly kept and brilliant establishment to step into Palmer & Thacher's on Fort street. They will find, too, not only the best of medicines but the finest of toilet appointments, and while examining those can be refreshed with an excellent glass of soda.

We learn that Mr. W. C. Akana has resigned from the Police force. His reasons are, we hear, that his former superiors were ready enough to try him on charges of bribery but when they found he was not guilty they were not so quick at defending his reputation. Akana is to resign shortly.

We have received a copy of the list of Hawaiian Stock Quotations for the month of April, prepared by W. O. Smith & Co., stock-brokers. We notice sales of Kohala at $485, Wailuku at $900, East Maui at $300, Paukaa Sugar Co. at $10, Reciprocity Sugar Co. at $100, and Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. at $125. The dividends paid during the month amount to $58,400.

As the soldiers were marching down Fort street on Tuesday afternoon a funeral was approaching along King street. The funeral reached the corner first, and by all rules of decency and decorum and the regular custom of the road should have been allowed precedence. But orders were given to have it stopped, and the military marched by, the Band, never even stopping its music out of respect for the dead.

YESTERDAY word came from Koolau of a disturbance at Heeia Plantation. The story, as written to a friend, is this: The Chinese laborers struck for higher wages. The manager discharged them, (about 100 in all.) They hung round the mill, and he ordered the natives to drive them away. In the fight which ensued two Chinamen were injured, but not seriously, in the face. The natives are to be arrested and the case will come up for trial today.

Not as yet generally known.

THE Public throughout Honolulu may not know that the premises recently occupied by W. E. Herrick, at No. 110 Fort Street, opposite the Pantheon Stables, is now known as the "City Shoeing Shop."

This new Establishment, will be a source of gratification to our community, inasmuch as cruel and torturous shoeing has heretofore been to largely practiced on man's noblest animal by so called Horse Shoers.

Edward Doyle, the well known experienced and skillful Horse Shoer, is manager of this shop, which is a recommendation in itself, and with the practical assistance of Andrew Brown, the floorman, our citizens may fully rely on their merits as master mechanics.

It would well repay our citizens to visit and examine Soaking Stalls and Foot Tubs arranged and built expressly for operating on wounded and disabled horses, which no other shop in this Kingdom has adopted.
